

HOROSCOPE

Aug 22 – Sept 21

WHEN you first heard about certain intriguing ideas, last week, you regarded them as exciting but unrealistic. In the short time since then, however, you've come to realise that with the circumstances in question changing rapidly, these will soon make sense. And not long after that, they'll fit right in.

Sept 22 – Oct 22

FOR you, the process of organising changes usually includes plans about what you'll say to others. However, several decisions are based more on feeling than fact, leaving you short of logical explanations. Say exactly that. Others won't just understand, they'll acknowledge they've made decisions that way themselves.

Oct 23 – Nov 20

ONLY a few weeks ago your response to the idea of rearranging certain reassuringly settled elements of your life would have been a negative one. But between recent events and a shift in your thinking, you've realised those are holding you back and, more importantly, at least you've far better options to consider.

Nov 21 – Dec 20

IT began with doing somebody else a favour. But that favour has turned into a lengthy and, for you, demanding arrangement. It's cost you in terms of time, money and, perhaps, your pride. The latter has, in fact, kept you from confronting the individual in question and bringing this arrangement to an end.

Dec 21 – Jan 19

FEW things exasperate you more than those who make plans, then change things at the last minute. Yet judging by the inspiring ideas you've just encountered or devised, that's exactly what you'll need to do. Not only is this a wise move, you'll understand those who make those last minute changes much better.

Jan 20 – Feb 18

THE term 'enforced change' sounds worrying but, at this juncture, actually signifies you've reached a turning point. Previous attempts to reorganise things haven't been rewarding, mostly because you kept changes to a minimum. Now that events are forcing your hand, you'll finally do what needs doing.

Feb 19 – March 19

CHANGE is in the air and you're feeling a variety of excitement and promise that rarely comes your way. The problem is that, at the moment, you're short of the kind of facts others need. Simply bide your time. Within days you'll have exactly the variety information those individuals will ask about.

March 20 – April 18

THE time has come to focus on the practical side of certain arrangements. For the past several weeks you've been so preoccupied with dealing with your own requirements and those of others that matters such as money, time and effort were forgotten. Now that things are moving swiftly, these must take priority.

April 19 – May 19

EACH New Moon introduces a fresh perspective in your life. However, it's been a week since the last one took place and you're only now recognising that what seemed disruptive developments were really breakthroughs. Now, instead of battling them, you can finally take advantage of the opportunities they offer.

May 20 – June 19

BEING told you're about to reorganise elements of your life may not sound exciting. But in a number of activities you're facing complications because they're in chaos. Now that the forthright Mars has moved to accent such matters, you're suddenly determined to impose order on these.

June 20 – July 21

AFTER a period that's emphasised duty over pleasure, you're ready for a break. With the Sun having moved into one of the sociable portions of your chart, you'll get it. More than that, the ideas and the individuals you encounter now and over the coming weeks could add something special to your life.

July 22 – Aug 21

INSPIRATION can appear in many forms. Judging by this week's planetary setup, you won't always have spotted promising ideas when they first arose. While this could mean going back to something you've rejected, it's worth any minor embarrassment. Others won't mind in the least and you'll be relieved.

The Great Elephant Gathering

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC WILD, 7PM: Between July and September every year, the single largest gathering of Asian elephants on earth occurs around the man-made Minneriya Lake in Sri Lanka's Minneriya National Park. Conservationists are using this unique opportunity to study how Asian elephants behave in the wild, and trying to find a way for man and beast to co-exist peacefully.
